

Invitation to Conference

NOFA 6 – Nordic Conference on School Subjects

Conference theme

General and subject specific knowledge about teaching and learning is complementary. Both have the aim to understand and deal with problems of education in order to facilitate student learning. From a general position scholars are investigating general conditions for schooling, such as child development, social background, multilingualism, classroom management etc., and from a subject specific position scholars deal with legitimacy and importance of school subjects and investigate particular problems, traditions and discourses in the different subjects.

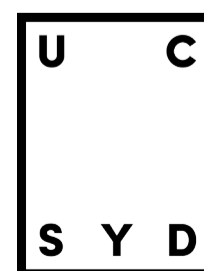

The conference is intended for researchers, teaching developers and teacher educators in all types of schools. There is an emphasis on elementary and secondary education.

Conference venue:
University of Southern Denmark, Odense
29th – 31th May 2017
